COOLIDGE GIVEN

WEST AS IT WASThrilled by Rodeo Riders, Mounts.

BULLETIN.
Bismarck, S. D., July 5.—(AP)—President and Mrs. Coolidge returned from the Bellefourche rodeo tonight and motored to the summer White House.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Bismarck, S. D., July 5.—(Special)—President Coolidge joined the cowboys and cowgirls of the far west in their rodeo today, when he made his first long journey from the summer White House to attend the Tri-State Roundup at Bellefourche.

At his box, wearing his cowboy hat, smoking a cigar in a long pipe, he enjoyed his first view of the wild riders, Indians in buckskins and trick riders galloping here from all the west. Twenty-five persons attended the performance.

The yell, dust, music, wind from the whipping flags, daring stunts, and the finest horse flesh in the west, made up this day of excitement for the President and Mrs. Coolidge.

His "Cal" to Cowboys.
The President became "Cal" at the rodeo. He rode a horse named "Cal" and was the first to see the President. He has a long record in the rodeo, having won many titles and many other prizes.

The President's horse was a champion. He was a dark bay, with a white blaze on his face and a white star on his forehead. He was a powerful animal, and he was a good rider.

MAYOR SEEKING LEGAL WAY TO DIG SUBWAY NOWWants Court Ruling
on Transit Project.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Mayor Thompson is said by an intimate political associate to desire to begin the construction of subways; and he intends to do it, if he can find a reasonably smooth path.

Acting Corporation Counsel James W. Breen is attempting to decide how the city can proceed without the subway bill which failed at Springfield last week.

William Lorimer, former United States senator, appears to be interested in the subject. He is reported to have conferred with a contractor or two, who presumably might be bidders on subway construction. The report is that he was seeking information on specifications for like work, and another is that he was collecting information on soil conditions below the downtown section.

The Lorimer chats are said to have taken place some time ago, when it was thought that the legislature would confer more authority upon the city to build subways. Then the administration got into difficulties on its revenue bills and Mr. Lorimer was pressed into service to get them through the general assembly. At that task he worked diligently for long hours.

The subway bill which the Chicago transportation companies submitted to the legislature conferred upon the city authority to construct bays by special assessments, by bond issue and by use of the city's $50,000,000 traction fund. The bill sought to confer that power beyond any question.

But in former years the city's legal department has held that the city had the power to build by special assessments. That opinion, however, was upon the theory that a subway is a local improvement, on which there has been no Supreme court decision in this state. Without such a decision, special assessment paper might be slow to sell.

How to get a Supreme court decision on that point as quickly as possible is one of the questions for which Mr. Breen is trying to find the answer. He is considering an agreed case on stipulated facts, but no decision by the law department will be made until Corporation Counsel Eitelson returns from his holiday at Green Lake. Mr. Breen started digging into the law last week, when it was certain that the subway bill would fail.

It is reported that the mayor wants to start some big construction project as soon as possible. He is anxious to go along with the projects under way, but he is more anxious to initiate something which will be exclusively his as a Thompson program and enable him to measure up to his campaign advertising of "Bill the Builder."

There is no election until the presidential primary next April at which bond issues could be submitted to the voters, although the legislature increased the city's borrowing power more than $4,100,000 on present tax valuations. But it has been suggested to the mayor that subway construction does not have to wait for a referendum on bond issues; and anyway the mayor is told there should be action on subways before the next session of the general assembly.

Fabery Eager to Dig.
Michael J. Fabery, president of the board of local improvements, who is on a vacation with his family, has said that the ambition of his life is to start subway construction. It is said that he has repeatedly urged action on subways since the administration was inaugurated, but that other advisers of the mayor have been more influential in convincing him that other tubes should be started as soon as practicable.

The mayor was told, according to report, that Maj. R. F. Keller, engineer of the council committee on local transportation, has collected such a large amount of information that he is almost prepared to write specifications.

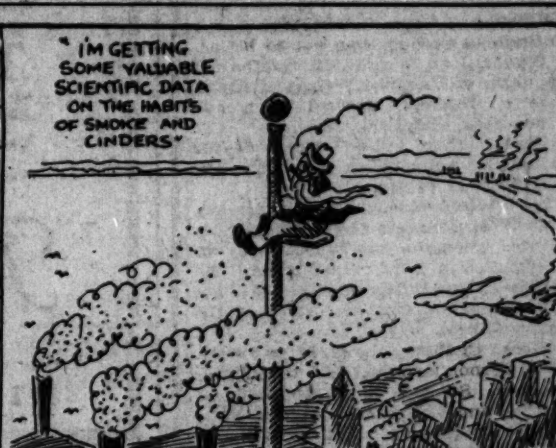

Several members of the committee on local transportation were in the council chambers yesterday, but none of them were informed on the reported intention of the city administration. "The good to be true," said one, and the others made like comments.

POLAR CHAMPIONSHIPS

America has already won the pie-eating and the pig-calling championships of the world.

With the American natural genius for organization and improvement, future flag pole contenders will be given all modern conveniences, such as steam heat, radio telephones, reading lights, libraries, daily papers, ash trays, athletic apparatus, stock tickers, etc., etc.

Ere long, we may expect to develop a lady champion who will bring new laurels to the nation.

It will not be long before we clinch our national superiority by having a flag pole wedding. Only then can we rest on our laurels, secure against the envy of other nations.

When our upward looking citizens pause to marvel and to admire, they should clutch their valubles firmly.

FIND POLICEMAN
IN DOUBLE ROLE
AS STORE ROBBER

Police of the Hyde Park station last night surrounded the meat market of Herman Newman, at 1369 East 56th street, after they had been informed a burglar was in the place. They entered to find a fellow policeman, George Ringelheim, using a crowbar in an attack on the cash register. He was promptly arrested by his comrades.

Ringelheim, who lives at 7951 South Sangamon street, recently was transferred from the detective bureau to the Hyde Park station. Several days ago he reported that he was not feeling well and obtained a sick leave.

Michael Dudlac, 30 years old, was sundering to his home at 3230 East 134th street last night after a swim at the beach. As he passed the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at 131st street, a large, black shape emerged from the darkness and gave voice to a loud "woof!"

Michael, clad only in a bathing suit, was equipped for sprinting. His speed across the prairies was stimulated by grunts from the animal which pursued him. As he ran, he shouted, and most of South Chicago heard him.

Michael sticks to his story.
Rescuers found Michael clinging to a sapling near 131st street and Avenue O. He said he had been treading by a bear, a great, big black bear! There was impolite laughter from his hearers, but Michael stuck to his story. Moreover, he insisted on borrowing a shotgun and going on a bear hunt.

A short time later residents in the district heard shots. Again, they hurried from their homes and into the prairies.

And His Story Is True.
This time some of them also carried guns, among them Joseph Neuhier. To him belonged the honor of killing the quarry after Michael had wounded it.

And then the cynical, who had expected an anti-climax, were dumfounded. The dead animal was a black bear weighing at least 500 pounds. There was no hint as to how it had become free in that vicinity.

DOUGHBOY AND DOG BUDDY GO
WEST TOGETHER

They're blowing tape this morning at Fort Sheridan for two comrades, inseparable on battlefields of the world war. One was an American soldier and the other his little brown dog, Jimmie.

It was more than nine years ago that Sergt. Michael Tierney of an A. E. F. signal corps unit coaxed the dog to leave a shell hole where he had remained for days beside the body of his former master, a British officer.

Through the Champagne-Marne, the Aisne-Marne, St. Mihiel, and the Meuse-Argonne they went side by side. Recently, when Sergt. Tierney recalled after months of suffering from war gas that he was dying, he requested that his little dog, now grown feeble and subject to spells of coughing from gas, be put to sleep. After Tierney's death on the Fourth at the Fort Sheridan hospital his widow, Anna, carried out his wish by chloroforming the pet.

At any rate there was an explosion and burning gasoline was scattered over the garage and the other cars. In a few minutes the place was a mass of flames. A 411 and two special alarms were sounded, but the fire had gained too much headway to save any of the machines.

Conflicting stories as to the cause of the explosion were told by John Harkey, 1040 West Jackson boulevard, night manager of the garage, and A. S. Sims, 423 East 41st street, secretary to former Ald. Oscar De Priest, who drove into the garage with a woman companion for some gasoline. Sims declared that Harkey was smoking a pipe and that the fire was started by a spark from the pipe some distance away from his machine. Harkey told the police the woman with Sims was smoking a cigarette and he believed she dropped it into some gasoline.

Pay Boost of 5 Cents May Be Granted

Wage negotiations over demands of Chicago street car men for an increase of 15 cents an hour and insurance provisions will be resumed this afternoon in the offices of the Surface lines. International officials of the street car men's union and representatives of the transit companies will be present.

For more than two hours yesterday the union leaders were in conference with members of the surface lines board of operation in the offices of the latter in the Illinois Merchants Bank Building. When the meeting adjourned both the union representatives and officials were optimistic in their views about a possible settlement of the wage controversy.

Mahon the Spokesman.
As at former meetings, William D. Mahon, international president of the street car men's organization, was selected as spokesman to the public for both employees and employers. He announced that the union's side of the dispute was placed before members of the operation board of the surface lines and said that progress toward a settlement was being made.

Later, it was learned that the surface lines were considering a compromise adjustment of the wage dispute. This proposition is said to have included a demand for a 5-cent an hour wage increase and a $1,000 life insurance policy with $20 a week benefits in event of illness of the motorman and conductors employed by the surface lines.

This raise would restore the 50 cents an hour maximum rate reached in the wage contract of 1922. The present maximum rate for motormen and conductors is 45 cents an hour. The insurance provisions of the agreement would approximate a 5-cent an hour increase, traction officials estimate, and would boost the compromise basis to about 7 cents an hour.

Elevated Men Have Insurance.
The insurance clause was included in the agreement consummated a year ago by officers of the "L" employees' union with the Chicago Rapid Transit company. This year the motorman and conductors' union is asking for a flat increase of 15 cents an hour along with trainmen of the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin Electric railway.

After the conference yesterday it was considered probable by some that any settlement will have to be submitted for approval to Federal Judge James Wilkerson, as 60 per cent of the surface lines' properties are in the hands of a federal receivership in his court. But union officials last night asserted they did not believe this would be necessary.

Man Perishes,
50 Autos Burn
IN GARAGE FIRE
One man perished and fifty automobiles were burned early this morning in a fire, caused by a gasoline explosion which destroyed the Modern garage at 687-45 South State street, with a loss estimated by Fire Marshal Seyferlich at $150,000. The man burned to death was Anderson Green, a washer in the garage. His body was not found for several hours after the fire, and police began searching the ruins under the belief there might be other bodies there.

Conflicting stories as to the cause of the explosion were told by John Harkey, 1040 West Jackson boulevard, night manager of the garage, and A. S. Sims, 423 East 41st street, secretary to former Ald. ships with heavier guns, which are more for aggression than defense. Each nation knows better than others what she requires for defense. A few German raiders caused immense damage and it took seventy cruisers to catch the Emden. What may appear to be a large number of small cruisers is vitally necessary to us.

"We suggest the limiting of large cruisers with sufficient smaller ones and we suggested smaller capital ships to show we have no aggressive intention. I did not think the prospects for success of the conference very bright on the opening, but I will be disappointed now if we do not get somewhere."

OFFICIALS AMAZED

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)
Washington, D. C., July 5.—[Special.]—High government officials expressed amazement today at reports from Geneva stating Great Britain's desire to raise the cruiser tonnage limit from the maximum of 300,000 tons, proposed by the United States, to something in the neighborhood of 400,000 tons.

"I scarcely believe England could ask for such a high tonnage," one state department official said. "I cannot imagine why Great Britain should desire to double her cruiser tonnage."

Mention Tonnage Limit

Officials at the state and navy departments stated that a tonnage figure of 400,000 tons represents about the limit which this government could accept. It was emphasized, however, that the United States has never said it would not agree to a figure in excess of the first American proposal of 300,000 tons.

American naval experts figure Great Britain now has approximately 220,000 tons of useful cruisers—built, building, and authorized. In addition to this England has something like 90,000 tons of cruisers which are not up to date. Three experts feel that when Britain asks for a tonnage above 320,000 she is seeking for an agreement raising rather than limiting her cruiser power. A tonnage of 400,000 would allow the United States slightly more than 40 cruisers, 22 more than we have built, building or appropriated for.

Can't Understand Britain

Experts on naval affairs can not understand why Great Britain feels that her special position in the world entitles her to either a preferential position in the matter of naval strength in cruisers and auxiliaries or makes it necessary for her to virtually double her present tonnage. It is pointed out that this government has national wealth superior to any other country and has foreign trade and investments second to none. If, under these conditions, this government is willing to accept a cruiser tonnage of less than 400,000 tons, the question is raised as to why Great Britain should not be satisfied with a similar figure.

These experts feel that "America's wealth and world position show conclusively that the naval requirements of the United States for defense and national insurance of our future development are second to no other country. They feel that to be on a parity with Great Britain in the matter of protection, this country should have a naval strength even greater than Great Britain."

CALL HUGHES TO EXPLAIN SEIZURE OF PARKED AUTOS

Chief of Police Michael Hughes was subpoenaed yesterday to appear before Municipal Judge Hamlin today and explain the seizure of automobiles parked in the street which police towed to public garages without notifying the owners.

Attorney Samuel B. Rabnoff, who goes on trial before a jury in Judge Hamlin's court, asked the subpoena. The lawyer is charged with violating the parking ordinance by leaving his car in the street at night. He announced that he would make a fight against the police practice of towing such automobiles to garages.

"Hundreds of automobile owners are with me in this fight," declared the attorney. "The action of the police is no better than burglary, and they are acting with no legal rights whatsoever."

ELEVEN SAVED AS OVERTURNED CAR BURSTS IN FLAME

2 Children and 3 Adults Die; Toll Is 474.

J. W. Welsch of 2781 Eastwood avenue and his wife and ten children were rescued from their overturned automobile near Kendallville, Ind., yesterday, a few minutes before the gasoline tank exploded, wrapping the wreck in flames. The car pitched down an embankment as Welsch, swerved to avoid hitting a rural mail truck driven by Marion Schetterback. The mail carrier broke the glass of the sedan and pulled the family to safety. None was hurt seriously.

Two children were added to the toll of automobiles yesterday. Dean Davidson, 5 years old, 137½ North Central avenue, was crushed to death by a motor coach in front of 521 West Washington boulevard. Witnesses said the driver, Lester Breuer, 3404 North Springfield avenue, was not to blame. Wanda Jean Wright, 13 months old, daughter of Clarence Wright of Elgin, died of injuries received in a collision near Plainfield, Ill.

Three other Cook county deaths caused by automobiles raised the toll for the year to 474.

Miss Winifred Buckley, 24 years old, 4033 West Congress street, was fatally injured when she was run down by an automobile in front of her home. She died in Robert Burns hospital. William Kleane of La Grange, driver of the car, was held.

Homes Chaffee, colored, 37 years old, 2823 Vernon avenue, died of injuries received Sunday in a collision at Throop and 27th streets with an automobile driven by Charles Leggett, also colored, of 255 East 29th street. Dr. Samuel Alfred Murphy, 800 North Clark street, was charged with manslaughter and Mrs. Corn Dixon of 1294 Alameda street was booked as accessory at the inquest on the death of Frank De Leonardo, 60, of 1803 Irving Park boulevard, killed in front of the Ravenswood elevated station Monday. John Szepel, 12, of 1215 West Chicago avenue was severely injured when an automobile being driven north by Mrs. J. C. Stinson, 7903 Normal avenue, swerved across Michigan boulevard at Chicago avenue and struck him at the curb on the west side of the street.

Frank Carey, 21 years old, 2216 Harper avenue, was fatally injured when he was struck by an automobile as he was changing a tire on his car at 96th street and Torrence avenue. George Beckerfeld, 21 years old, 5125 Commercial avenue, driver of the automobile, was held.

STEPHENSON TELLS HIS STORY PROSECUTOR

Prisoner Breaks His Silence of 2 Years.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 5.—[Special.]—D. C. Stephenson, Indiana's ex-governor, crawled from his shell at today, and for more than three hours talked to William H. Remy, prosecuting attorney of Marion county, and three of Mr. Remy's associates.

Stephenson had been threatening to tell the story of a scandal which would shake the high officials of the state and of the nation into the limelight as those engaged in political corruption. For years a leader of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan, Stephenson is believed to have been the man, for years, behind the rule over the political destinies of the state.

What did Stephenson tell Prosecutor Remy?

The prosecutor refused to give any hint, contenting himself with this statement: "During the three years I cannot tell you anything he said, for if I did so, everybody in the world would know what I intend to do."

City Politics Under Fire.

It is reported that Stephenson, serving a life sentence in the Indiana state prison for the murder of Madge Campbell, of Indianapolis, gave the prosecuting attorney a long and detailed account of the political situation in Indianapolis and the national politics as it is played in Indiana.

Stephenson, according to the report, told the prosecuting attorney that he had been a leader of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan for years, and that he had been a member of the national organization since its inception.

WILL PLEAD CASE IN POEM ON CHILD'S LOVE OF FIREWORKS

Not being able to hire a lawyer, John L. Kellogg, 42, of Detroit, yesterday composed a poem which he will read to Municipal Judge William R. Fetzner today as a defense to charges that he robbed a shoe store at 404 South State street of $21.

Dear daddy, won't you please come home? I love you, daddy mine: If you will come home for the Fourth, We'll have a dandy time.

"There's the motive," Kellogg said in his cell at the South Clark street station. "My little daughter wanted me to buy some fireworks and come home over the Fourth of July."

Poor dad was broke and out of work. But still he thought he might redeem his promise to the child.

Who thought her dad all right. "There's paths that should soften any judge's heart," Kellogg remarked. "It's tough to be out of a job in this town."

July the Fourth, the little girl thought daddy would not fail. But daddy's now a holdup man And locked up tight in jail.

"It would take a heart of stone to read that plea," reasoned Kellogg. "I hope I get another chance."

he wants to tell the truth, he should be as ready now to tell it as at any other time.

Attorney Moore tonight revealed an interview with Stephenson last week when the former Klan leader made up his mind to break his silence of two years.

"Stephenson gave me this message," said Moore: "At the proper time I will set myself right with the people of Indiana. This is my solemn pledge and in all my life I have never broken my word. If the people of Indiana will believe me now, as God is my judge, I will not betray them."

Jackson Denies Parole.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 5.—[AP.—Gov. Ed Jackson today approved the recommendation of the board of prison trustees in denying the request of D. C. Stephenson, life prisoner at Michigan City, for a ninety day parole.

WOULD DIVORCE WIFE WHO PLANS TO WED ANOTHER

Her Sweetheart Salutes Chicagoan 'with Esteem'

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.

1. A man who steals your wife's affections really is no gentleman.

2. But then, the woman who hates the country in which her husband makes his livelihood, and who loiters over the cooking, ironing, and sewing in order that she may weep before her sweetheart's picture—well, she's not much of a marital companion.

3. So, after all, the husband who, under these circumstances, consents to divorce his wife that she may marry the other man, isn't an angel. He's just a common sense man who learned his law from ethics, not from the law books.

That's the three-pleth thesis on domestic triangles which Henry C. R. Japing advanced yesterday afternoon as he sat at his lodgings at 1353 North La Salle street, and talked of the divorce suit which, through Attorney A. F. W. Siegel, he filed recently in the Superior court, charging his wife, Maria Prager Japing, with desertion.

Scorn "Terrible Country."

The charges merely technical, in spite of the fact that Maria is back with her parents in Leipzig and has refused to return to this "terrible country of dirty streets, where men don't take off their hats in the elevator."

Maria, herself, wanted to get a divorce, for she loved one Walter Reichenbach, a neighbor back in Leipzig.

She went, according to the information received by her husband, to lawyers, judges, and consuls. But they told her she couldn't get a divorce from a husband who was good to her, offered her a home in the land where he was working, and kept on sending her $100 a month after she left that home.

So, as a last resort, she wrote to her husband asking him to give her a divorce. That was about four months ago. Japing was ill at the time and took no action. The other day he received a letter from Reichenbach.

Finds Social Difficulties.

"It is sufficiently known to you," the other man in the case wrote, "that we love each other and have been planning for years to marry each other. Maria's standing as a wife and mother who lives separated from her husband in America is socially almost impossible for the future. You must, out of love and duty, admit that a legal freeing of her is necessary to bring back to her the rights, peace of mind and esteem of the public."

Mr. Reichenbach goes on to assure Mr. Japing that Japing's two children, Harold, 15, and Gerlie, 14, never will be estranged from their father. Instead, so the gentleman from Leipzig reasons, the youngsters will be so grateful to their father for his gallantry in divorcing their mother that they might marry her sweetheart that they will esteem and revere Henry C. R. Japing more and more.

Salutes Him with Esteem.

The letter concludes: "I salute you with esteem, Walter Reichenbach."

"For goodness sake, whatever you do," Mr. Japing yesterday implored, "don't make me out an angel. I'm just a hard working salesman."

"Besides," with something like a twinkle in his eye, "maybe after she marries this man, I'll look a lot better to her. Perhaps, she'll divorce him to her."

MILICENT ROGERS' ENGAGEMENT DENIED; RETURNS FROM PARIS

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—H. H. Rogers, Standard Oil magnate, returned today from Paris on the Olympic, accompanied by his daughter, the former Countess Salm.

She was on the passenger list as Mrs. Millicent Rogers and will retain that name until she marries again, her father said.

Asked if there was any truth in the cable report from Paris that his daughter had become engaged to a South American, Col. Rogers replied:

"That was quite absurd. Why, one French newspaper went so far as to say she was married again."

"Is it likely that Mrs. Rogers will marry again?" he was asked.

"I sincerely hope so, but I can say that when she does contemplate marrying again, the engagement will be duly announced."

and come back to me, and everything will be fine; perhaps."

Japing is a German who was born and educated in England. He married Maria Prager of Leipzig in 1911 and they went to live in Belgium. The war came and Japing, harassed by various rules pertaining to his bi-national standing, went at last to Sweden.

Maria went back to Germany and met Reichenbach. After the war Japing took his wife and children to America.

"But my wife," he said, "she wore a locket and got mad when the people laughed at it."

FALLS DEAD IN STREET.

Eugene Angst, 56 years old, 13457 Baltimore avenue, dropped dead, presumably of heart disease, yesterday at 135th street and Burley avenue.

One Side Wet, Other Moist in New Jersey

Trenton, N. J., July 5.—[Special.]—The Republican party of New Jersey went mildly wet today.

Overriding the decision of its resolutions committee and the voices of the women delegates, the state convention wrote into its platform a plank calling for a Volstead law referendum similar to that which was overwhelmingly passed by the New York voters last fall.

Harmony marked the Democratic convention, which sat in another hall. The Democratic platform was adopted as proposed by the resolutions committee, including a demand for light wines and beer.

The turnover in the traditional policy of the Republicans was accomplished by flouting the wishes of several of the state leaders who believed they had behind them the necessary support to uphold the decision of the resolutions committee. The action is likely to have an important bearing on both the gubernatorial and senatorial elections of 1928.

The referendum plank was proposed by Senator Emerson L. Richards of Atlantic City, a potential candidate for governor. Assemblyman Clifford R. Fowell of Burlington and Assemblyman Miriam L. Lippincott of Camden led the fight against it.

After a bitter controversy the first vote showed 47 to 37 in favor of putting it in the platform.

Thereupon, Assemblywoman Isabel Summers of Passaic county fought the adoption of the entire platform because of the inclusion of the disputed plank. On the showdown the vote stood 67 to 18 in favor of adoption.

BANDETTE AND HER THREE PALS SENT TO PRISON

CRIMINAL COURT.
Helen Konkol, Carl Ness and Joseph Maschinski, robbery, sentenced to 3 to 20 years each in the penitentiary; Clarence Swenson, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary; M. Brown, rape, sentenced to 2 years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge John J. Sullivan.

Helen Konkol, 21 years old, who was dubbed Hardboiled Helen by the police at the time of her arrest some weeks ago, did not assume her usual attitude of defiance yesterday after she had appeared before Judge John J. Sullivan with her three companions in a series of robberies. Instead of swaggering back to her cell as has been her custom she was practically carried by two court bailiffs for she had fainted when she found that the judge had turned a deaf ear on her tearful pleadings for another chance.

The girl bandit, who was captured in a tear bomb raid on the home of her sweetheart, was sentenced to three to twenty years in the penitentiary, Carl Ness, 21, her sweetheart, and Joseph Maschinski, 26, also were sentenced to from three to twenty years. Carl Swenson, 19 years old, was the only member of the gang to win any leniency on his plea of guilty, receiving 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary.

"You people are lucky you are not trying to save your lives in a murder trial," said the judge. "It is fortunate for you that some policeman was not killed."

The girl tried to plead ignorance of the intentions of her companions on April 13 when they robbed the jewelry store of Joseph Robinson, 1232 Milwaukee avenue. But Robinson testified that she took an active part in the crime and held him up with a revolver while her companions scooped up the jewelry.

The gang was arrested through a slip on the part of Miss Konkol in her flight. She left her purse on the counter and from a paper in it the police traced the robbers to Ness' flat at 2323 North Sacramento avenue.

however, is not highly indicative. The aldermen had no information of the administration's intention on transportation until the companies' bills were announced in the newspapers.

The Tribune's informant on subways gave an additional bit of information. He said that it has been suggested to the mayor that the first subway be built by corporate bond issue—the 20 year serial variety, at 4 per cent—rather than by the $50,000,000 traction fund. He claimed the city in reality has more bonding power than represented to the legislature, and that

FACE TWITCHES AND UNDERTAKER SAVES YOUTH

Racine, Wis., July 5.—(AP)—Struck by a locomotive and saved from the morgue only because his face muscles twitched as the undertaker prepared to work, Charles Bartek, 18, was able to sit up in bed tonight at a hospital here and eat fried chicken.

The Chicago bound Northwestern road train hit Bartek as he stepped on the tracks just after a northbound train had passed. He was thrown clear of the tracks. Engineer E. R. Fitch stopped the train and other trainmen placed the "body" in the baggage car and pulled into the station where an undertaker took charge.

BLAZE SWEEPS BOARDWALK AT ATLANTIC CITY

Atlantic City, N. J., July 5.—(AP)—Nearly a block of the boardwalk, between Missouri and Arkansas avenues, was razed in one of the most disastrous fires in years today. Three firemen were overcome and more than 500 persons were made homeless.

Eight hotels and rooming houses sent vacationists scurrying to the street. Most were on the beach at the time and their belongings were either burned or ruined by water and smoke.

Hotels destroyed or damaged included the Prescott, Regent hotel, Leonard, Lutz, Boardwalk, Bella Napoli and the Silverdale. Ten houses or cottages were destroyed or wrecked.

The million dollar pier, opposite the Boardwalk hotel was in danger. Just before the Remington Arms exhibit went down in flames a loud rattat-tat started up and continued, but no one was hurt by the bursting shells.

MILLIONAIRE FIGHTS OPERA SINGER'S SUIT FOR $48,000 A YEAR

New York, July 5.—(AP)—August Hecksher, millionaire real estate operator and philanthropist, asked the Supreme Court today to dismiss the complaint filed against him by Frieda Hempel, concert and opera singer, in which she claims that he agreed to pay her $48,000 a year for the remainder of her life.

The New Yorker's grounds were that the alleged contract is void and unenforceable under the provisions of the statute of fraud and that the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

The motion is scheduled to come before Justice Townsend, Monday. "If the agreement alleged in the complaint to have been made between plaintiff and me in or about April, 1924, was ever made, which I deny, said agreement was oral and was and is void and unenforceable under the provisions of the statute of frauds," the plea said.

WIFE'S NIBBLERS DOWN GRAVES, BUNDSEEN SAYS

Women They Lead to Fatal Diabetes.

The dominance of the species is the male; and is correspondingly a more frequent victim of diabetes of Health Herman N.

Bundseen, in a recently completed study of diabetes statistics, finds that the disease has brought death, in the last year, to 3,306 Chicago women and 2,378 Chicago men.

The figures for the country at large show the same ratio with regard to the prevalence of the disease. Bundseen notes the fact that women nibble much more than men.

Nibbling Way to Grave.

The married woman rate is highest in the diabetes mortality chart. And if the married woman, he points out, is at home, in the kitchen much of the time, she is near the icebox, the pantry shelf and the cupboard.

She nibbles her way to a fatty stomach, to a fattish figure, perhaps, to diabetes.

"Don't eat with your eyes, but according to your needs," Dr. Bundseen advised yesterday.

Don't eat more and walk more. A woman with the tape line and the figure for the prevailing mode, but to insure a longer life, eat less than women do;

many women, keep everlastingly at it. They nibble this and that, usually sweet things, and don't get the bread and butter of food that a stomach needs.

They're afraid of drinking water. They think that water is fattening. This is ridiculous.

At Die in Year.

After the health commissioner after his survey had been made, he "altogether too common a disease." In Chicago, for instance, in 1919 persons died of the disease.

It was a rate of 35.7 per 100,000 population. And this rate was exceeded only by only heart disease, kidney disease, cancer, pneumonia, tuberculosis, cerebral hemorrhage, and accident on another basis, diabetes in 1919, responsible for more than one-third of the total number of deaths in Chicago.

Diabetes is all too common for a disease that is so easily preventable," Bundseen maintains. "The presence of diabetes usually is the result of a bad way of living. Don't eat more with your knife and fork. Open a probe of the disease's disappearance.

deavor to discover how Edward Kazda, disappear Friday when being brought to the courtroom to be sentenced to the habitual criminal act.

JUDGE GIVES $2 TO ALIMONY DUE HUNGRY FAMILY

Superior Judge Harry A. Lewis yesterday contributed $2 from his own pockets toward alimony due Mrs.
Louise Dobrocke of Chicago Heights.

The woman, with her three small children, sat throughout the morning session of court thinking that her divorce case on the July trial call would be reached. Toward noon her chil-children's begging for something to eat broke down her morale. The judge heard her crying softly to herself. A bailiff called her before the bench.

"We haven't had any breakfast," Mrs. Dobrocke apologized for disturbing the court. "My husband stopped our credit with the grocer and the butcher."

The husband, William, was not in court, so the judge opened up his pocketbook and then directed the social service bureau to investigate her case.

Platinum Slumps to $69
an Ounce Because of Alloy

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, July 5.—The slump in platinum is causing a near panic in the precious metal market here. A year ago it cost $25 (about $125) a troy ounce; in April it went down to $21 (about $105), and today it flopped to $17 1/2 (about $86.25).

Russian imports and use of a cheaper alloy are blamed.

Margery Frohman, 6 years old, 255
Ainslie street, came back to Chicago yesterday proudly displaying a seven pound pike she caught at Spider Lake, near Manitowish, Wis., on July 4. The little girl, according to her parents, had no assistance in landing the fish,
which was nearly as long as herself.

Four year old Nicholas Vouricis, 1701 North Mango avenue, was fatally hurt yesterday afternoon when he was caught between an elevator and the wall in Wieboldt's department store, 1279 Milwaukee avenue. The boy was standing in front of his mother as it was descending.

COURT UPHOLDS NORTH EXTENSION OF OUTER DRIVE

An injunction which prevented extension of the outer drive north of Grace street was dissolved yesterday by Circuit Judge Ira Ryner in a ruling which adjudicates the property rights of Lincoln Park commissioners to land recovered from the lake.

Lincoln park commissioners announced that work will be resumed on the drive at once and that the boulevard will be completed as far north as Montrose avenue by fall. The thoroughfare now leaves the lake front at Irving Park boulevard, forming a bottle neck through the Wilson avenue district. The extension has been at a standstill since May 10 when a temporary injunction was issued in the suit.

Claim Agreement Violated.
The plaintiffs in the case were Mrs.
Nett W. Robbins, 746 Robbins terrace, and her daughter, Mrs. China L. Logman.

They contended that the commissioners had violated an agreement under which their riparian rights of property at the foot of Robbins street had been waived in 1895. They sought a permanent injunction to prevent the construction of a boulevard adjoining their property because the original plan did not call for a driveway at this place.

Attorneys Chester E. Cleveland and Robert H. Farrell, representing the commissioners, argued that once the line was fixed between property formerly on the lake front and the reclaimed land, the park was at liberty to improve the new land as it sees fit. They were sustained by the judge.

May Reclaim Land.
Another point at issue in the case was whether owners of abutting property could limit the maximum distance between their land and the new water's edge. Judge Ryner held that the park commission is at liberty to reclaim as much land as it sees fit as long as the government gives its permission.

Technically, the ruling sustained the defendant's demurrer, dismissed the plaintiffs' suit and dissolved the temporary injunction. The petitioners were granted the right of appeal to the Supreme court.

SEAPLANE DIVES INTO LAKE; FOUR DIE AT SEATTLE

Pilot Had Taken Three Friends Out for Flight.

Seattle, Wash., July 3. (AP)—Four persons were killed late today when a seaplane fell into Lake Washington here.

The dead are Olaf Johnson, pilot; Roy Wolin, Seattle insurance agent; J. Bock, manager of Lake Arrowsmith lodge, Los Angeles; and Fred Stancliffe, Seattle insurance agent.

The seaplane, which belonged to the Puget Sound Airway company, took off from the Sand Point naval aviation field near here at 4:30 this afternoon on what was to have been a short flight.

While 500 feet above the lake, between Kirkland and Seattle, the plane, piloted by Johnson, suddenly was seen to go into a spin and plunge into the water.

When harbor patrol boats reached the scene the plane was completely submerged. Half an hour after the arrival of the boats they had recovered the first body, believed to be that of Wolin. Work with grappling hooks was started in an effort to bring the other bodies to the surface.

The three passengers, all friends of the pilot, went to Sand Point early in the afternoon to go on the flight. Bock was here from Los Angeles on a visit with his parents, friends said.

TWO HELD FOR BURGLARY.
One of the burglars who ransacked the apartment of Vincent Murphy at 918 Essex avenue last Thursday dropped a letter addressed to the other. Police arrested William Kelly, 19, of 5748 Kenmore avenue, and Clyde Young, 21, of 4660 Hazel avenue. Yesterday they were held to the grand jury by Judge John A. Scharbar in bonds of $5,000 each.

GIRL HANGS HELPLESS ON ROPE UNDERNEATH PLANE; LANDS UNHURT

Minneapolis, Minn., July 3. (AP)—

Dangling at the end of a rope 2,000 feet in the air for a half hour, Miss Evelyn Barrett, 19 year old Minneapolis girl, narrowly escaped death yesterday when the pilot of an airplane from which she attempted a parachute jump landed in a plowed field.

Hired to entertain a crowd of 3,000 at a Fourth of July program, Miss Barrett climbed out on the wing of the plane and swung off. But the rope which held her parachute to the wing strut had been tied in a slip knot and her efforts only tightened it.

Another pilot attempted to fly underneath and rescue Miss Barrett, but the wind was too "bumpy" and he was finally forced to land.

Finally, his gasoline running low, the pilot headed for a plowed field a mile away, where he made a safe landing in the soft dirt.

FOUR DIE WHEN TRAIN RUNS INTO SWITCH ENGINE

New York, July 3. (Special.)—Four persons were killed, eight seriously injured, and fifteen slightly injured, at noon today when a New York, Ontario and Western express train crashed into the rear of a "switcher" train at Iona Island, N. Y., 42 miles from New York on the west bank of the Hudson river. It was feared tonight that at least one and probably four of the injured would die.

The express carried 200 persons bound for Weehawken and New York, mostly homebound city dwellers returning from the Fourth of July holiday. All the dead and seriously injured were in the first coach of the train, which was partly telescoped by the baggage car ahead of it.

Railroad officials blamed Fred A. Brandt, engineer of the express, for failure to obey signals set against him before he came to the switch.

2 British Women Flyers Claim Altitude Record

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, July 3.—Two women aviators, Lady Bailey, wife of the South African millionaire, Sir Abe Bailey, and Mrs. Geoffrey de Havilland, wife of the designer of the famous war fighting planes, reached a height of 18,000 feet in a Moth plane near here today. This is claimed to be the altitude record for light planes. The airship, piloted by Lady Bailey, had to pass through a layer of storm clouds.

BYRD WILL SAIL FROM ENGLAND FOR U. S. JULY 13

France to Give Him Cross of Legion of Honor.

BY JAY ALLEN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, July 5.—Paris continued the celebration of the six trans-Atlantic flights today. Most of the burden was placed on Commander Richard E. Byrd of the airplane America. He has attended each function and made a speech at each. His companions showed up only part of the time. Charles D. Chamberlain and Charles A. Levine, who flew to Germany, are not taking part in most of the affairs, but are spending most of their time visiting the various airplane works and trying out numerous planes.

Commander Byrd, who shows signs of the strain of the harrowing flight and official ceremonies, told newspapermen today he would leave the end of the week for Amsterdam and would sail from England on July 13, so a whole round of receptions was planned for tonight. The commander remarked that he did not know when his companions would return, and that he was getting more of a glimpse of the world than he had before, did not know himself when questioned.

Review Le Bourget Troops.

The four flyers this morning got their first glimpse of the field they were to reach in the fog Thursday night, being guests of the 34th regiment at Le Bourget. They reviewed and inspected the great fleet of French army planes. Commander Byrd devoted a wreath on the tablet marking the spot where Col. Lindbergh landed. Returning to Paris, Commander Byrd and his fellow flyers went to the ministry of marine, where they were guests of Minister Leygues for lunch. Many notables of the French political world were present, including Minister of Justice Louis Barthou, Minister of Commerce Bokanowski, and Senator Menier.

It was announced that the French government had decided to award Commander Byrd the cross of the Legion of Honor.

Guests of Senate Chief.

At 5:30 p. m. the Aero club received the heroes and an hour later they were guests of Paul Doumer, president of the French senate, in the luxurious Luxembourg palace. Tonight the aviators had the evening to themselves. Lieut. Bernt Buchen and Bert Acosta again hiked to the Montparnasse quarter and spent the evening in the Latin quarter cabarets. Tomorrow they will be the guests of the Anglo-American Press club for luncheon, and in the evening will attend a grand ball given by the International League of Aviators at the Hotel Caridge.

The America will be dismantled immediately at Cherbourg, where it was brought today from Versailles. Commander Byrd tonight putting an end to the reports that an attempt to repair the plane for a return flight might be made.

PAUL KILLS BOY OF 3.

Arthur Paul Jr., 3, of 2647 Rhode avenue, New Grove, fell out of his high chair and died yesterday at the Oak Hill hospital.

FOUR BALLOONS DOWN IN DETROIT AIR RACE; ONE GOES 580 MILES

Detroit, Mich., July 5.—(AP)—The reported arrival of the Detroit II, a balloon entered in the Detroit News trophy race and piloted by A. U. Rasmussen of Detroit, near Kingston, N. C., tonight has apparently established a new world's long distance record for balloons of the third category and possibly an endurance record. The present world's record is about 500 miles, while the air line distance between Detroit and Kingston is approximately 580 miles.

In addition, the landing of the Detroit III at Mount Vale, Va., 20 miles east of Roanoke, at 7:45 o'clock tonight has broken the world's endurance record of 23 hours and 28 minutes in the air. The Detroit III, owned and piloted by E. J. Hill and A. G. Schlosser of Detroit, was the first of four balloons to leave the Ford airport here at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. They were in the air 26 hours and 45 minutes.

But one balloon apparently remains in the air, the Goodyear V, entered by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company and piloted by J. A. Boettner of Akron, O.

Suitor Kills Woman as Her 3 Children Look On

In the presence of her three small children, Mrs. Anna Geogean, 28 years old, was shot and killed in her home at Gary yesterday by George Papas, a steel worker. Papas then shot himself and fell over her body. He died a few hours later. Neighbors said that Mrs. Geogean and her husband, Athenan, who lives in Pittsburgh, separated about a year ago and that Papas had been paying the bills for the family.

MOTOR MAGNATE TO MARRY BUYER OF CHILD'S WEAR

Detroit, Mich., July 5.—(Special.)—Charles E. Mott, vice president of the General Motors corporation and many times a millionaire, today applied for a license to marry Mrs. Mittles Rathbun, 35 years old. He is 52 years old and lives in Flint. Both have been married once before. The license will be issued Saturday under the Michigan law of five days delay.

Mrs. Ethel Culbert Harding Mott, Mr. Mott's first wife, fell from a second story window of their residence on June 5, 1924, and was killed. They had been married 24 years. Mrs. Rathbun divorced her first husband.

Mrs. Rathbun for some time has been employed as a buyer in the children's clothes department at a local department store.

Mr. Mott has been three times mayor of Flint, resigning his third term to receive a commission as major in the world war. In 1920 he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor and a year ago declined to become a candidate again.

Mrs. Rathbun is a daughter of W. S. Butterfield of Battle Creek, owner of a chain of theaters in Michigan. She is the former wife of Earl H. Rathbun of Battle Creek whom she divorced a year ago on the grounds of desertion. Rathbun is a son of Frank Rathbun, former mayor of Battle Creek and owner of a lumber company there.

Col. and Mrs. W. S. Butterfield, parents of Mrs. Rathbun, were "completely surprised" when informed of the action. "Mr. Mott and our daughter spent the Fourth of July holidays with us at Gull Lake," Mrs. Butterfield stated.

JEWELER SEANS GRAND JURY.

Gustav Seand, 919 Fullerton avenue, a jeweler, was chosen foreman of the July grand jury, which was impaneled yesterday by Chief Justice William J. Lindsay in the Criminal court.

BYRD PAINTS HIS PICTURE OF AIR LINER IN FUTURE

Passengers to Soar at 20,000 Ft., He Thinks.

FIFTH ARTICLE

PARIS, July 5.—Our flight across the Atlantic was not successful in that we did not arrive where we set out to go.

Two factors, fog and temporary affection of our earth inductor compass, prevented our reaching Le Bourget. We got lost through some very tragic hours, but in the face of our failure as well as in the success which we did have in crossing the Atlantic the first time with a big three engine plane, with four men on board and heavy equipment, we learned many things which must be of the utmost importance for the future.

Pioneers, Commander Byrd says, we were pioneers in our way and if we were to do the flight again, as we all probably will sooner or later, there are several things we would do which we did not do this time, and several we would not do. It is only by experiments such as ours that the future of flying can be developed.

In a recent article I spoke of radio and the shortest route through the air across the Atlantic. With the air plane equipment we have at present this route must be found at various altitudes, according to wind currents, but within fifteen years great, powerful planes will be built which will be

FUSE BURNS OUT ON GIANT BOMB MEANT FOR SPOKANE PAPERS

SPOKANE, Wash., July 5.—(AP)—An attempt to blow up the business offices of the Spokesman-Review and the Chronicle with a powerful dynamite bomb failed here today when the fuse of the internal machine burned to within two and one-half inches of the percussion cap and then went out.

The bomb was found by two employees of the Review about six o'clock this morning. Police said it had been "planted" about 3 a. m. The staff of the Review, a morning newspaper, had left the building, and the Chronicle force had not arrived at the office.

The bomb was a fifteen pound coffee can filled with 60 per cent dynamite. No motive for the attempt was advanced by the newspapers, although both of them have campaigned extensively against vice and liquor rings in this city.

My article indicated that strong westerly winds could be obtained at a high altitude. It is thought that should a plane fly at 20,000 feet it would generally be true that in going from west to east the speed of the plane would be increased by the wind forty or fifty or even seventy miles an hour.

May Need Oxygen Tanks. However, to fly at this altitude would require far greater engine power, owing to the rarity of the atmosphere, and much more gasoline would be needed than at lower altitudes. Cabin passengers would perhaps have to be equipped with oxygen tanks, as would, of course, the pilots in the cockpit.

This would have the further advantage of keeping the passengers and flyers warm, as it gets considerably below the freezing point at that altitude at any time of the year.

On the American at frequent intervals, despite the clouds, we had opportunities to do this. The result was that, while we could not tell how much the wind had blown in off our course, nor calculate the errors of our compasses, we knew before we got out there would necessarily be a great load of gas, but the tank would be supplied with a dump valve, as was the America. If two of the engines should stop within ten hours after starting the surplus gas could be dumped and enough kept to allow the plane to fly on four engines. We believe long distance planes of the future will carry this dump valve.

Motors Run 43 Hours.

On our trip our three motors ran for forty-two hours without any one of them missing a beat. That should be proof enough of the reliability of the modern engine and to Charlie Lawrence of the Wright Aeronautical corporation, who designed them, a great deal of credit must go for the success of our trip. If engines so reliable as these can be designed and go successfully through a forty-two hour test such as we gave them, then flying across the Atlantic cannot any longer be regarded as a risky, unsafe business. The difficulty of motive power has been overcome.

When Alcock and Brown made their first great, daring jump from Newfoundland to Ireland they flew in a fog a great deal of the way and never knew on which side they were flying. For many minutes they were flying upside down. Since then there have been invented instruments which show exactly at what angle the plane is flying, and we have none of that anxiety and discomfort. We had a telephone with which we could talk to each other and hear above the din of the motors, even when by shouting we could not make ourselves heard without it.

Sees Radio Direction Stations.

Within a few years there will be enough radio direction-finding stations over the trans-Atlantic route to enable a navigator to locate his exact position at any time, so that he need not fear being drifted off by strong cross winds which he is unable to calculate. A wind of forty miles an hour blowing from the left side would blow a plane forty miles off the route per hour.

Those planes of the future flying at 20,000 feet, will always be high enough to enable the navigator to see the stars or sun practically all the time, thus permitting him to keep his course.

On the American at frequent intervals, despite the clouds, we had opportunities to do this. The result was that, while we could not tell how much the wind had blown in off our course, nor calculate the errors of our compasses, we knew before we got out of the dense fog almost exactly where we were.

Landing Gear Retards Plane.

The big landing wheels of such a plane would offer considerable resistance in the air, slowing up the plane by perhaps five or ten miles an hour. Therefore the landing gear would have to be made so as to be withdrawn close against or into the fuselage.

I believe Noville has demonstrated that passengers in this air liner of the future will be able to sit comfortably in their cabin and receive messages from any place in the world.

It is thought that only one engine will not be used for these planes, as too much will depend on its working, and no airplane engines are likely to be built in the near future which will be absolutely infallible. No mechanism built today is infallible. The engine of a railroad train may break down and no great harm be done. If the engine of an airplane stop, the plane must come down immediately and the landing speed of a plane is always such that if it hits any obstacle, disaster must result.

New York to Paris in a Day.

This air liner in going from west to east should reach Paris in one day from New York. Storms would not bother it. Its greatest enemy would be fog, for the greatest enemy of aircraft today is fog.

But even fog can be rendered harmless. This future plane will be guided directly to its landing field by radio direction finders and knowing exactly where it is, will have no trouble in landing unless the fog goes right down to the field. To provide against such cases, the plane should have enough gasoline left either to fly to another field not covered by fog—which information would be relayed by radio—or to fly around until the fog disperses.

This is not a wild dream, because our plane, the America, when it arrived near Le Bourget, had enough gas left to fly 100 miles. And in addition, the America had mail and a load of some hundreds of pounds on board. Of course it is possible that within a few years something will be invented to disperse the fog from the landing field or some light will be invented which will properly penetrate it.

Flyer to Be Weather Man.

Storms will not always prevent progress through the air and frequent winds can be taken advantage of to increase greatly the speed of the airplane. In crossing the Atlantic by air, flying will have to be done at various altitudes. The navigator will be an expert meteorologist and his knowledge of wind directions and wind strength and so forth will be greater than that possessed today by any flyer. He will fly at that altitude where he will have the winds with him or where they will be weakest against him.

There already exist instruments which, together with radio direction finders, will give him his speed over water or over land.

The engines of this great plane will be accessible to mechanics so that in case of motor stoppage in the air a mechanic can have a chance to make repairs and get them going again. This is by no means impossible even now.

Able to Make Repairs.

The two outboard engines of the America could be reached by a little catwalk from the cabin and certain minor repairs could have been made in the air if needed.

The earth inductor compass is the airplane compass of the future, because that part of the compass which is affected by magnetic meridians can be placed far out on the wing of the plane so the compass is not thrown out by magnetic material of the engine and metal parts of the plane, as usually is the case with ordinary compasses. Leads from this earth inductor for compass out on the wing can be brought into the navigator and pilot to steer by.

Some of these trans-Atlantic planes will be freight ships, and in that case perhaps at least a part of the freight could be carried in the wings. In the America we had a compartment made in the wings in which we put some of the most precious material on board, such as a piece of the original American flag, which we were bringing to President Droumge.

Could Carry People in Wings.

The wings of these future planes could be made thick enough for passengers to be carried within them. In fact, if a trap door had been made in the wings of the America they could nearly have held a man.

In case of shipwreck all ships at sea carry life boats and life preservers. We had just these things on board the America. A boat large enough to hold seven or eight men which would have floated on the ocean almost indefinitely. This craft was constructed of rubberized fabric and weighs only 27 pounds.

We had enough food to last us fifteen days and there was breathing apparatus of only a quarter pound weight which condensed the breath into water when one blew into it, so that there was no necessity of making a forced landing because of thirst.

SCIENTIFIC AND EQUAL REALTY TAXATION URGED

Dr. Fairweather of U. of C. Asks Set Rate.

Science suggested to politics yesterday that taxation be applied scientifically rather than haphazardly. The suggestion applies only to real estate, however, scientific investigators may find that they have no recommendation to the middle of personal property taxation, nor did they touch upon income or inheritance nor corporate taxes.

The scientific report of Dr. Herbert Simpson of the Institute for Research in Social Economics and Public Utilities of Northwestern University, published yesterday, was supplemented by another last night by George O. Fairweather, manager of properties of the University of Chicago.

Suggests Fixed Rate.

His suggestion is this: The actual value of any and every piece of property in Cook county is determined. A taxation rate of, say, 10 per cent of actual, real or sale value, can then be applied to each piece of property—no more, no less, to every foot of ground and every building. All property then being on the same basis, and the limit of taxation being 10 per cent of the taxable value, every taxpayer would then pay exactly 10 per cent of what the property is worth.

The report of Dr. Simpson called attention to a survey of 6,105 real estate transactions in Cook county in a period of 1914 and 1925. The findings were that the values of these properties for taxation were unequal, office buildings being assessed on the basis of 58 per cent of their value, single family residences at 27 per cent of their value, and most land at less than 20 per cent of its value, and further, that the rate of assessed to actual values varied in rather way sectionally.

Seeks Facts Only.

Neither of the treatises took cognizance of political expediency or expediency. Mr. Fairweather emphasized last night that the studies conducted no criticism, facts only being sought, recommendations being impractical.

The members of the board of assessors and the board of review declined to make any comment on the statements of Dr. Simpson. The unofficial secretary of the board of review, Mr. Simpson's chart showed that the county office holders have long contended that loop property is taxed disproportionately than outlying property. The assessors were content to stand at that.

Revises Tax Balance.

As the assessors' office attention was called to frequent charges by Miss Margaret Haley of the Teachers' federal, and a recent charge by Ald. Joseph J. Connelley, chairman of the city council finance committee, that the more valuable property was not taxed on the same basis as the poor man's home, Dr. Simpson's study indicated the contrary. The assessors were pleased but surprised.

YOUTHS HERE GET PREFERENCE FOR MILITARY CAMP

Applications of young men from Cook county for admission to the military training camp at Fort Sheridan will be given preference over applications from other sections of the county until July 15, at which time the opportunity is still open.

The Fort Sheridan camp will be open until July 15 to Aug. 26. Applications may be obtained from the Military Camps association, 4 North Dearborn street.

"The applications for admission to the camp throughout the country far exceed the number of places available," the announcement read. "But all July 15 Chicago and Cook county will be given preference at the Fort Sheridan camp. They are urged to get in their applications immediately, while the opportunity is still open." The Fort Sheridan camp will be open until July 15 to Aug. 26. Applications may be obtained from the Military Camps association, 4 North Dearborn street.

FASCIST PARTY FEUDISTS TURN TO MUSSOLINI

II Duce May Return to Rough Measures in Italy

BY DIPLOMATICUS.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Copyright, 1927, By The Chicago Tribune.)
LODANO, Switzerland, July 5.—Benito Mussolini, Italy's two-listed premier, is faced with one of the gravest decisions of his career in the immediate future—a decision which may split the Fascist party wide open.
After nearly two years of evasion, the Duce must choose between the young intellectuals who have been advancing the party beyond the castor oil and bludgeon stage and the old elements who demand stern action.
Premier Mussolini has been brought face to face with this necessity through the quarrel between Mario Carli and Emilio Settimelli, editors of Impero, organ of the stern actionist elements, on one side, against Curzio Masetti, editor of La Conquista dello Stato; Telesio Interlandi, editor of Tevere, and others of the young intellectual group.

Quarrel Goes Back to 1919.

The roots of the struggle go back to an incident in 1919, when two writers on Popolo d'Italia named Masetti and Giovanni Capodavica resigned after $20,000 lire (about $11,000) was reported to have disappeared from the "Pro-Fiume" fund being collected by Popolo d'Italia for Gabriele d'Annunzio.
These two writers went to "Aventi," the organ of the socialists, and revealed the alleged misappropriation of funds and said they could no longer work for a man guilty of such turpitude. Popolo d'Italia appealed to Sig. d'Annunzio for an investigation, which was conducted by a committee of young Fiume legionnaires at the head of which was young Arditi and Maj. Mario Carli. Premier Mussolini was absolved from any misappropriation of funds.

On June 23 this year the fascist party announced that Sig. Masetti had been appointed president of the Alpine club of Italian university students, which has an important function in the pre-army military training of Italian youth and is an official body. Impero, printing the communique, followed it with a violent personal attack on the newly elected president, saying him with being a traitor to the party and with being pro-German.

Mussolini Refuses to Act.

This attack was particularly annoying to Sig. Augusto Turati, the Fascist party secretary, who had appointed Sig. Masetti. He went to Premier Mussolini to demand a retraction from Impero. He did not get it.

The following day Sig. Settimelli printed an editorial in Impero in which he declared Sig. Settimelli and Sig. Carli both were plain soldiers of the Fascist ranks, and that he, Sig. Settimelli, did not "have anything" to do with them.

Sig. Settimelli wrote, "Some people say that I am protected by II Duce. II Duce protects no one. His eyes are fixed on the supreme goal, 'to govern with justice all Italians.'"
The intellectual group within the party took this editorial as saying, in effect, that Sig. Carli did have something on Premier Mussolini. And that is where the investigation of 1919 enters into today's quarrel, for Sig. Carli, after clearing II Duce of the charges against him, neglected to return the documents in the case, and they remain in "a safe place."

Mussolini Must Make Choice.

How does this affect Sig. Mussolini and why does it face him with a grave decision? Because when the Italian premier dismissed Roberto Farinacci, party secretary fifteen months ago, replacing him with Sig. Turati, he definitely turned his back on the acerbic methods of bludgeons and oil, and entered a new period—the conversion of the corporative state. During that fifteen months he has traveled a long distance toward the goal he set in March, 1926.

Facing this summer, when the whole nation is suffering from the effects of the economic policy, faces the most serious crisis since the Matteotti case. Present indications are that it will weather the storm by removing the young intellectual elements from the party, placing reliance on the group represented by Impero.

Here's a New Rug Just Discovered In France

We have just received from France a new Rug—one entirely different from anything we have ever had before. We consider it one of the most interesting products which have come to the Rug Section in years. . . . These are its most remarkable features: the patterns are Oriental and go through to the back, as in Oriental Rugs. . . . The colors are soft and have the richness of Oriental yarns. . . . And, most extraordinary feature of all, the prices:

2.6x4.4 Ft., $8.75 3x7.7 Ft., $22.75
4.4x6.7 Ft., $24

HAS TOOTHACHE; KILLS SELF.
August Carlson, 60, of 217 West 58th street, a plumber, was found asphyxiated in a gas filled bedroom at his home late yesterday. One end of a gas hose was in his mouth. He had had a toothache for several days, neighbors said. He lived alone.

"The fact is that a smoking stack not only signifies a health menace but is really a symbol of waste," Chairman declared yesterday. "Wise captains of industry learned long ago that it is economical to prevent smoke."

The smoke chief's observation was occasioned by a statement by Ald. William A. Rowan [10th] to George Nye, head of the hollow insulation trust.

Hollywood, Cal., July 5.—[Special.]—Mrs. William DeMille, filed suit for divorce from the moving picture director-producer in a complaint of 20 words today. She charges desertion. Mrs. DeMille formerly was Anna George, daughter of Henry George, the single tax exponent.

BRITISH CABINET MAN HITS CHANGE IN PRAYER BOOK

Johnson-Hicks Champions Protestant Cause.

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, July 5.—The final steps toward adoption of the revised prayer book by the Church of England were taken today by the church assembly, meeting at the church house, Westminster. The book has been approved by the houses of bishops, the clergy, and the laity, separately, and now it comes before the joint body, which will undoubtedly approve it when the vote is taken tomorrow. After that it will go to parliament for final adoption.

Compromise Prayer Book.
The book is a compromise between the Protestant and Catholic factions in the church, but leans much further toward the Catholic position than the present book.

The only resolution for rejection of the new book was put forward by the Anglican-Catholic Canon D. A. W. Hall, but the debate against the book was led by Sir William Johnson-Hicks, home secretary, who constitutes himself Protestant champion in the house of commons. Sir William said the resolution on the reservation of the sacrament taken by the new book is "a reversal of the Protestant doctrine and principle of enforcement."

Archbishop of Canterbury Talks.
The archbishop of Canterbury, who presided, spoke in favor of adoption of the book. He gave a stern warning that after it was adopted the bishops would enforce discipline among the clergy.

Outside the church house a parade of men carried placards protesting against the "error of idolatry."

FUND SOUGHT FOR 15 VICTIMS OF FIREWORKS BLAST

As a result of a resolution passed by the village board of Des Plaines last night, a community fund will be raised and distributed to those who were injured Monday evening when 15,000 worth of fireworks exploded in Northwestern park.

All the fifteen victims who were treated by physicians Monday evening were reported improving.

POLE SITTER NOW HOPES TO TURN FAME INTO CASH

"Hold-em" Joe Powers, flagpole sitter, who has successfully sat out his sixth consecutive day at the top of the Morrison hotel flagstaff yesterday decided he had become famous. During the first five days, when his reputation was yet unmade, people in the street were content to stare at him with naked eyes. Yesterday, having passed the halfway point in his attempt to win the national amateur flagpole sitting championship, he became so important that telescope renters in Clark street were able to collect a dime a look from their customers. "Such," mused Joe, "is fame."

Assured of his place in the spectra along with Mars, Jupiter, the moon, and that disturber of pigeon peace, Capt. Kidd, "Joe" conferred by telephone with his manager, John Ramsdell, and instructed him to begin accepting offers for vaudeville contracts, chautauque lectures, Christian contest and organ recitals. "Fame should be capitalized," said Joe.

By prearrangement with the hotel Joe is furnished free of charge anything that he wants to eat. Yesterday for the second time apple pie à la mode was hoisted. It came down, untouched, with a note. "Pie," wrote Joe, "is not for flagpole sitters."

REOPEN HEARING IN HAFFA-ALBERT FIGHT TOMORROW

Council Group May Decide Fraud Issue.

With the aldermanic seat of the 43d ward at stake, the city council's judiciary committee will meet at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow to continue its hearing of the election contest of Titus A. Haffa against Ald. Arthur F. Albert. The personal feud, charges of fraud, and the tangle of legal controversy involved in the contest has caused it to attract wide attention.

Haffa and Albert were boyhood friends and for years, before quarreling, were known in Republican politics as "the Siamese twins." They waged a spectacular battle for ward control last spring and there is no other council contest as yet unsettled.

The issues involved. Haffa in his petition claims that he received a majority of 67 votes in the preliminary election, Feb. 22. He entered the runoff April 5, however, and Albert won by 174 votes, and was sworn in. Haffa now seeks to unseat him.

The chief point of contention in the attorneys' arguments is a decision made by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki last March ordering the runoff. In the February election, Haffa received 5,742 votes; Albert, 5,006, and Michael Wolf, 591, a majority of 72 for Haffa. Albert filed charges of fraud before Judge Jarecki and a recount followed which cut Haffa's majority to 67. The recount showed 365 spoiled ballots. These, Judge Jarecki held, had to be counted as votes in recounting which candidates received the necessary "majority of all votes cast" to elect him. Thus, he ruled, no candidate received such a majority, and ordered the runoff between the two highest, Albert and Haffa.

Haffa's attorneys, led by Joseph B. Fleming, contend that Judge Jarecki had no right to order a recount, that his spoiled ballot decision was wrong, that Haffa's running April 5 does not affect his right of contest, and that the council, as "judge of the qualifications and election of its members" should declare Haffa elected.

The Albert Contention.

Albert's lawyers, on the contrary, maintain that Judge Jarecki had full jurisdiction, acted justly, and that Albert won legally April 5. They add that the will of the voters will be upset if Albert loses his seat. Furthermore, they say they are ready to prove that the Feb. 22 election was fraudulent. At its last meeting the committee took under advisement the question of hearing the fraud evidence. That will be decided, it is expected, tomorrow. Due to their absence at Springfield, several members of the committee have been absent at the contest hearings thus far. Ald. Nelson has sent out a special notice urging a full attendance at the meeting tomorrow morning.

GOLFERS QUALIFY FRIDAY FOR U. S. CITY LINKS MEET

6 to Represent Chicago at Cleveland.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

With three days of golf behind them, Chicago's golfers returned to the business of making a living yesterday and most of the clubs had one of the smallest days since the weather became fine. In line with this slump after the three day holiday is the lack of golf affairs the remainder of the week.

Most important is the qualifying round for the sixth national amateur public links championship to be held at Mid City Friday. The round will be 36 holes medal play, open to amateurs not affiliated with any private club. Six players will qualify for the Chicago team.

Cleveland Holds Tourney.

Both individual and team championships will be held at the Ridgewood course in Cleveland, Aug. 2 to 6. The team championship symbolized by the Warren G. Harding trophy, which was won by Chicago last year, is awarded on the basis of the lowest medal score of four players of each city's team in the 36 hole qualifying round for the individual championship. Thirty-two qualify for the individual championship, with 18 hole rounds up to the final which is 36 holes.

An old condition of the championship is that there isn't a single one for the five former champions who is eligible for this year's competition. Lester Solstad, who won last year, has joined the Interlachen club of Minneapolis which makes him ineligible. The others, Eddie Held, Richard Walsh, Joseph Coble, and Ray McCauliffe all have joined clubs or become professionals.

New Players for Chicago.

Incidentally Chicago's team also will have new faces for Dave O'Connor and Frank Springer, two of those who helped bring the cup to Chicago last year have joined the professional ranks. Sam Albert, western junior champion, has joined Bryn Mawr and also will be ineligible. Any golfer not affiliated with a private club may compete and entries and the entry fee of $5 should be sent to Joe G. Davis, 236 North Clark street or to Ira S. Copeland, 397 West Adams street, Chicago committees of the public links section of the U. S. G. A.

Plans of the Western Golf Association for the trek to Seattle, which starts Saturday night, for the Western amateur championship are about complete. From present indications a dozen of Chicago's best amateurs will make the trip.

Chick Evans, who won the Western championship eight times, will try to make it nine. Russell Martin of Florence and John Dawson of Glen Oak are two other strong threats. Among the others who have entered are Moulton L. Ames and John P. Ames of Glen View, Charles Grace, a friend of the younger Moulton at Princeton. Among the other star golfers who will compete are Eddie Held and Jimmy Manion of St. Louis, Don Carrick of Canada and Jim Ward, runner-up in the recent trans-Mississippi championship. Other entries are coming in, but as some are sending their entries to Seattle and others to the Western association's office here, a complete list is not available.

The golfers who leave Saturday night will have special cars and make stops at Glacier park and Spokane. The championship will begin Monday, July 18, and continue through the week.

Sammy Baker Learns to Use Becker Finds Upholstered Mitts in Army Pike Plentiful in Weed Beds

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Sergeant Sammy Baker of New York who meets Mushy Callahan of Los Angeles, the world's junior welterweight champion, in the feature of the American Legion boxing show at Wrigley field on Tuesday night has an impressive war and ring record.

At the start of the world war he enlisted with the Twenty-first infantry of the regular army. He was transferred to Hawaii and attached to the aviation corps. Later he was brought back to the United States and stationed at Mitchell field on Long Island, N. Y. He recently received his discharge from the army, but retains the rank of first sergeant in the infantry reserve corps.

Whips Some of Ring's Best.

It was at Mitchell field that Sammy first attracted the attention of officers. He won most of his bouts by knockouts. Master Sergeant Steve Webster took an interest in the lad and later became his manager. Webster, who still is in the service, secured a furlough to come west with Baker for the Callahan fight.

Baker's nationality is Scotch-Irish. He was reared on a small farm in Alabama. Among some of the prominent fighters he has beaten are Jack Zivio, George Levine, Ace Hurdin, Harry Martone, Larry Estridge, and Joe Simonich.

Baker sparred with Willie Hines yesterday. His clever feinting and aggressiveness made a hit with the gym patrons.

La Barba, Moore in Semi-Finals.

Callahan also put in a busy day. The champion went on the road in the morning and boxed with Frankie Frisco in the afternoon.

Fidel La Barba, the world's flyweight champion, and Pal Moore, a member of the naval post of the American Legion, will meet in the semi-final. The other two round bouts will bring together Joe Lucas and Ignacio Fernandez and Spas Myers and Stanley Locaya.

All American Legion posts, society women and business men are putting their shoulders to the wheel to make this show a success. All profits will go into a fund to send disabled soldiers and sailors in Chicago hospitals to the Emmanuel Jandis, the Greek heavy weight who was stopped by Bill Tate in less than a round at White Sox park Monday night, was suspended for one year and fined two-thirds of his purse by the boxing commission yesterday. The suspension was inflicted because of his unsatisfactory showing in the ring.

The bout between Paul Panatier, Central A. A. U. light heavyweight champion, and Joe Corrado of Evanston will top the amateur show at Malloy field, 74th and Aberdeen streets, tonight. Seven other bouts complete the card.

Bud Gorman of Racine, Wis., who fouled Jim Maloney of Boston in a recent show, was suspended for sixty days and Farmer Lodge, who fouled Arthur De Kuk in the same show, was given a similar suspension. Frankie Gilman drew a sixty days' suspension for being over weight.

THERE'S a warm invitation in every cool puff on a pipe packed with P.A., if you get what I mean. You sort of look forward to each intake, the way you watch the mails for a letter from your best girl. Good old Prince Albert! Never wears out its welcome.

Why, the instant you open the tidy red tin and get a whiff of that wonderful P.A. fragrance, your mouth waters for a taste of such tobacco. Did I say "fragrant"? I hope to tell you! The flowers that bloom in the spring have nothing on Prince Albert.

And when you load-up the old jimmy-pipe and open the drafts—say, Mister! Cool as the blast of a traffic-cop's whistle. Sweet as his words: "I didn't mean you." Mild as the Gulf Stream, yet with that full, rich tobacco body that satisfies to the very limit.

I'm getting mine with a pipe and P.A. every day. I want you to get yours. All you have to do is step around the corner and tell the man-behind-the-counter you want a tin of Prince Albert. He hears that hundreds of times a day from men like yourself. Try P.A.

P.A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, packed and half-packed in hand-drawn, and ground or cut glass humidor with sponge-moistener top. And always with every tin of him and pouch reserved by the Prince Albert process.

ORDINARY LATHER
This lather-picture (usually made) of ordinary shaving cream shows how the bubbles fall on the face, and how they hold air, instead of water, against whiskers.

THIS "small-bubble" lather has been developed to soften your beard with water. Water, science proves, is the only effective beard-softener. More water at the base of whiskers means a quicker, cleaner shave.

"Small-bubble" lather holds more water, gets closer to the beard-base. The lather pictures above prove this. And it is at the base of the beard that the razor does its work.

How "small-bubble" lather works
The moment Colgate lather forms on your beard, two things happen:
1. The soap in the lather breaks up and floats away the oil film that covers each hair.
2. With the oil film gone, millions of tiny, water-saturated bubbles bring and hold an abundance of water directly down to the base of the beard, right where the razor does its work.
Because your beard is properly softened at its base, your razor works easily and quickly.

COLGATE LATHER
This picture of Colgate lather shows how millions of tiny, moisture-laden bubbles hold water, not air, in direct contact with the base of the beard, thus softening every whisker right where the razor works.

ly. Every hair is cut close and clean. And your face remains cool and comfortable throughout the day.

$25,000 LINCOLN HANDICAP DRAWS SPEEDY FIELD

Princess Doreen, Jock, Hydromel Nominated.

Princess Doreen, Jock, War Eagle, Hydromel and Rolled Stocking last night looked up as almost certain starters in the $25,000 Lincoln handicap to be run at Lincoln field on Saturday. They all will be unloaded at the Cret track today. Chance Play is enroute from New York for the engagements and there is a possibility that Princess will be shipped here as his owner, R. L. Gerry, yesterday wired for the weight assigned to his horse. Flat Iron, Flagstaff, Teddo, and a lot of other good ones were ready on the ground and the race began to shape up as the most important stake event of the year.

For an unsatisfactory ride on Finland at Washington Park on May 28 Jockey Mark Fator has been suspended indefinitely. It is reported that the stewards yesterday. He is a brother of LaVerne Fator, the eastern rider under contract to the Rancocas stable.

At the same time the stewards announced that Jockey Bob Finnerty whose license was revoked at New Orleans last night, had been granted a probationary license to ride here. He will have his first mount this afternoon on Tom P. in the first race.

It isn't the desire of John D. Hertz to race Anita Peabody against the eastern 2 year old champion Dice for a side bet. Mr. Hertz explained to friends last night. If a sweepstakes can be arranged at Lincoln field for the best 2 year olds in the country Anita Peabody will be a starter and I think she'll win," he said. "But will be only for the sport we get out of it. I'd rather demonstrate that we have a real champion among the western 2 year olds than to win the biggest side wager that could be made." He continued. Col. M. J. Winn is anxious to add the race to the already rich list of Lincoln fields stakes.

Coming with Princess Doreen from Latonia today will be 21 other thoroughbreds from the Audley Farm stable which is owned by Montfort and R. B. Jones, wealthy Virginia turfmen. Jockeys W. Crump and R. Russell are to be here to do the riding. The veteran Kay Spence is training them.

Jockeys C. E. Allen, L. Pichon and L. Jenner monopolized the card at Lincoln fields yesterday, each turning in two victories. Joey Bolles was the only other lad to break into the winning column booting the short priced Astre home in the fourth race.

WORKS like magic on any kind of corn, no matter how old, where it is, how bad it hurts. One touch and the pain goes. Almost unbelievable. Then the corn shrivels up and goes. A scientific way that dancers, walkers, actors, doctors and millions use. Beware of imitators. Get the real "GETS-IT" at all drug stores.

You get more families in Chicago and suburbs than any other newspaper can give you. You get more readers in The Chicago Territory outside Chicago than you can get with any other newspaper. You are given exact information on circulation in the city districts of Chicago and in every city, village and hamlet outside Chicago. You can easily check the quality of the circulation.

There are many evidences of the value of Tribune good will built in The Chicago Territory for 80 years. Manufacturers who have made the greatest advertising successes have not placed their money on the strength of theory and intangible claims. They knew they were buying an actual value which no other newspaper could give them.

Increases in sales in The Chicago Territory have so substantiated their judgment that they have continued to use The Tribune each year in increasing measure.

20 of 22 million dollar Bellwethers prefer The Tribune above all other Chicago newspapers.

BY a vote of 20 to 2, the "million dollar" national advertisers pick The Tribune above all other Chicago newspapers. All but two of 22 manufacturers who spent $1,000,000 or more for advertising in newspapers in 1926* gave more of their appropriation to The Tribune than to any other Chicago newspaper.

An overwhelming decision which leaves no doubt as to The Tribune's overwhelming leadership!

Can the man who spends more than a million dollars a year for advertising be far wrong? Could you fool 91% of the largest advertisers in the country? Read the list at the left of big newspaper advertisers and note carefully how they spent their advertising funds in Chicago.

Making It 100%!

All but one advertiser in this list used The Chicago Tribune—and that one, Lever Brothers, is spending approximately $50,000 for advertising in The Tribune during 1927. The other 21 spent $1,491,871.40 in The Tribune. The rest of their appropriations were divided among several newspapers.

Many in this "million dollar" group concentrated the bulk of their Chicago advertising in The Tribune. Several used more space in The Tribune than in all other Chicago newspapers combined. Stories of successful selling in The Chicago Territory by concentrating in The Tribune have been told during the last year by the following advertisers in this "million dollar" list:

Studebaker Corporation
Kellogg Company
Maytag Company

Chrysler Corporation
Frigidaire Corporation
Oakland Motor Company

Willys-Overland Motor Co.

Spent $3,000,000 in The Tribune

If you would like to hear about the experiences of these successful advertisers, write for details. Note the range of articles covered by testimonials: food, automobiles, household utilities. The articles vary in price from ten cents to $2,500. Women exclusively buy some of these articles. Others are bought by women with men in the background, and others by men with women wielding an influence. The biggest newspaper advertisers in America prove that The Tribune is the newspaper of the whole family. The Tribune's leadership includes automobiles, food, drugs, publishers, gasoline, tobacco, and household utilities.

There were 82 additional advertisers who spent $500,000 or more in newspapers or magazines. Of this number 64 used The Chicago Tribune—a total of 85 out of 104 of the largest national advertisers in America who found that The Tribune played an important part in the selling and merchandising of their products in Zone 7. In 1926 they spent, with those listed at the left, more than $3,000,000 for advertising in The Tribune.

*From the list prepared by the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association. If there are any "million dollar" newspaper advertisers omitted it is because the bureau of advertising was unable to secure estimates of their newspaper expenditures.

CRUDE OIL GIVES MOTOR INDUSTRY AN EASY RIDE

BY HARPER LEECH.

The close relations of the oil and automobile industries are, of course, evident every time one stops at a filling station for gas or oil, but that tells only part of it.

The modern automobile tire contains 10 per cent by weight of carbon black—made from natural gas, most of which comes from oil fields or fields drilled originally for oil. Much of the improvement of the modern tire is due to the use of carbon black, which began about 1915.

Last year carbon black to the amount of 175,511,000 pounds was manufactured, of which $6,325,000 pounds were used by the rubber industry, or 42.2 per cent. Printer's ink, the one time principal consumer of the substance, accounted for use of only 12.7 per cent of the product.

Manufacture of carbon black was at one time a favorite "horror" of the conservationists who pointed out how little of the heating value of the gas was obtained for use. But last year only 130,321,000 cubic feet of natural gas were used to make carbon black, while over a trillion cubic feet of the gas was produced.

Louisiana is now the principal carbon black state, but the industry has been migratory following new gas and oil discoveries. About 1.4 pounds of carbon black is obtained from 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas—the yield of 1926 being the highest on record due to conservation methods in production. along the highway thus comes from the oil and gas fields only to roll over another product of the petroleum industry on many stretches of road and street.

Sales of asphalt and asphaltic products made at petroleum refineries last year amounted to 3,458,470 tons, a gain of 9 per cent over the year previous, and with the flood of oil this year, which indicates a crude production of at least 10 per cent more than that of 1926, we may expect a greater gain in domestic asphalt sales.

Trinidad, once famous as the principal producer of asphalt from its natural lake of pitch, sent only 76,562 tons to the United States last year.

With the immense stocks of crude oil now going into storage—the demand for tankage and pipes by the way has been partly responsible for large steel production this year—it is a pleasure to report the invention and adoption of devices for the protection of tank fields from lightning which are said to reduce fire hazard by 85 to 90 per cent. Evaporation of oil and gasoline has also been greatly reduced by insulation and the adoption of welded joints.

FARM AND GARDEN

Illinois will resist tomatoes have stood the test in an infested field in Australia, establishing a record that horticulturists consider of value in the vegetable growing world.

Weaver of the state agricultural college at Urbana recently received a letter from an Australian grower who tried out with resistant tomatoes sent to him by the University of Illinois last year. Horace F. Green of Hill View, Toowoomba, South Australia, had been troubled with Fusarium wilt in his tomatoes for years and sent here for resistant varieties. The disease is so destructive in Australia that it does not pay to grow nonresistant varieties after the disease once becomes serious in a field. Seed of disease resistant tomatoes was sent to Green, who tried them out last season and has just reported favorably on the results.

The Australian harvested good yields of high quality fruits even on infested soil, despite the fact that the crop was grown on the opposite side of the earth from the field where the seed was produced. They were grown almost as far south of the equator as Illinois is north. Weaver points out. He thinks the record remarkable.

One of these varieties sent to South Australia was the New Century, developed by the Illinois horticulturists, and the other one, Marglobe, a resistant variety of the federal department of agriculture.

LONDON WOOL AUCTION.

LONDON, July 5.—At the opening of the wool sales today, 10,880 bales were offered, of which 10,000 were sold. There was a large attendance of home and continental buyers and a firm tone and good competition throughout. Compared with the prices ruling at the close of the May series merinos and fine crossbreds were par to five per cent dearer and medium and coarse crossbreds five to seven and a half per cent dearer. The bulk of the coarse wools were not sold owing to high limits.

Undue eagerness to make a big splash
Failure to take a "census" of the local market
Poor stocks
Failure to create a store personality
Poor equipment and fixtures
Unsupported advertising

When is a bond a speculation?

"I HAVE invested my money in bonds, but they do not seem to be as stable as good stocks," said an investor to the Compton Service Department. "What is wrong?"

The truth of the matter was that, even though he had bought bonds, he had not invested his money at all—he was speculating without knowing it. Eighty per cent of his holdings, although diversified as to type, were high-rate issues and were distinctly of second grade.

With little substantial security behind them, these bonds were sensitive to wide market fluctuations. This investor had bought them because of their high return, overlooking the importance of diversification in yield, with a strong foundation of conservative securities, relatively stable in price.

To strengthen his list, the Compton

Service Department recommended a few switches to well-secured first mortgage utilities, industrials, and senior railroad issues. His return was reduced a bit, but he was reasonably assured of stability and permanent return.

Investment conditions have changed. It is not easy now to obtain the high yields that were available on even the soundest securities a few years ago. Many investors, seeking to maintain a generous return, place too large a part of their capital in high-rate issues, at the sacrifice of the proper element of safety and stability.

Scrutinize some of your high-rate bonds and see if they are also high-grade bonds. With a copy of our Personal Investment Guide you can conveniently analyze your holdings for yourself. We will gladly send you a copy if you will request it on your letterhead.

$250,000 HAYMARKET BUILDING (CHICAGO)

6½%
First Mortgage Serial Gold Bonds
(Fee Title) Maturing Serially

Dated June 14, 1927
Bonds are offered with coupons attached in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100. Principal and semi-annual interest (June 14 and December 14) payable at the Mid-City Trust and Savings Bank, Madison and Halsted Streets, Chicago. The bonds are callable in lots of $10,000 on any interest due date, before maturity by payment to the legal holder of the principal at 102 and accrued interest.

MID-CITY TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK, CHICAGO, TRUSTEE

The following information has been summarized from a letter written by Mr. Warren B. Irons, owner of the Haymarket Building, to the Mid-City Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago:

SECURITY: This issue of bonds, in the amount of $250,000, is the direct obligation of Warren B. Irons and Pearl Irons, his wife, owners of this building and other real estate. The entire issue of bonds is further secured by a closed first mortgage on the land and Haymarket Building, located at 716 to 726 West Madison Street, Chicago. The building faces 120 feet on Madison Street and the lot has a depth of 191 feet, all improved. This building is less than one mile West of State Street and is in the heart of the West side business district, directly across the street from the John M. Smyth Company West Town Market, the largest furniture store in the City of Chicago.

BUILDING: The property is improved with a six-story and basement stone and brick building. The first floor is occupied by five stores and theatre lobby. The upper floors are used for offices, lobby, and light manufacturing. The well known Haymarket Theatre, located on part of the lot, has been very profitably operated by Mr. Warren B. Irons for the past five years.

GUARANTEE: The Chicago Title and Trust Company has issued its guarantee policy to the Trustee guaranteeing the Trust Deed securing the aforesaid bond issue of $250,000 to be a first lien upon the land and building.

EARNINGS: During the years 1924, 1925, and 1926, the Haymarket Building and theatre was operated by Mr. Warren B. Irons for the owners, the Chicago-Haymarket Company of New York, on a commission basis and it netted the owners during these years, after payment of interest, taxes, insurance, commission, and all expenses, an average income in excess of $39,000 annually, which is equivalent to approximately 2.37 times the interest charge on $250,000 at the rate of 6½%. During the past year, beginning June 1, 1926, the theatre and buildings have been under lease to Mr. Warren B. Irons at a net annual rental to the owners of $45,000 which is approximately 2½ times the annual interest charge of the entire bond issue.

APPRAISAL BY COOK COUNTY REAL ESTATE BOARD: An independent appraisal by the Cook County Real Estate Board has been made for the purpose of securing an accurate estimate of the sound value, and the salient points as set forth in this appraisal are as follows:

Land in fee, 120 feet x 191 feet.....	$384,000.00
Value of total improvements after deducting liberally for depreciation.....	$164,000.00
Total Worth of Property.....	$548,000.00

On the basis of the Cook County Real Estate Board's appraisal, the land and building together have a valuation of over 200% of the amount of the loan. More accurately stated, it is a 45% loan.

SERIAL MATURITIES: The Trust Deed will provide for a substantial reduction of this loan by serial annual payments as follows:

$10,000.....	June 14, 1928	$10,000.....	June 14, 1931
10,000.....	June 14, 1929	10,000.....	June 14, 1932
10,000.....	June 14, 1930	10,000.....	June 14, 1933
			June 14, 1934

INSURANCE: Fire insurance to the amount of $250,000.00 is carried and assigned to the Trustee for protection of the bondholders so that if buildings are destroyed by fire the protection to the bondholders is ample.

Price 100 and interest to net 6.50%

(This offering is made subject to prior sale and change in price.)

New York, July 5.—(Special).—The stock market was buoyant today. Trading was of moderate proportions and according to commission houses, largely professional. It was influenced by two major developments, the return flow of funds paid out in interest and dividends July 1 into seasoned investment stocks and an abundance of money at lower rates. Ralls were especially strong.

Some of the gains in investment stocks were of striking size. For instance, Atlantic Coast Line on a comparatively small turnover closed 6 1/2 points above Saturday's quotation; Colorado Fuel and Iron, 4 1/2; Baldwin Locomotive, 2 1/2.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

The way wheat and corn come out on bulge and is absorbed on recessions gives the impression that strong interests are disposed to take profits on the wheels and set their grain back on the declines. This tends to keep prices within a comparatively narrow range. There is a tendency to go slow on the buying side of wheat until there is a certainty as to the extent of the southwest movement and the effect of the hedging pressure is felt.

Increased buying of December corn put it to be over September. In fact all the new buying is going into December, the new crop delivery. Loans in September are unloading and taking the more deferred to September. The premium of nearly 6c for September.

September over July prices December 14c over July. This running away from the cash grain with the largest premiums known at this season is taken as showing the faith in the ultimate bullishness of the new crop future.

One of the most active of the large pit traders said at the close that the trade cannot successfully pay the large carrying charges. He predicts that September corn will sell down to 90c.

James E. Borden, who motored to the Mississippi river over the holiday, said corn planted early in the season was in better shape than that put in during the first part of June. The ground is so lumpy that the corn cannot grow fast. The outlook, he said, is the poorest he has ever seen.

PLAN FOR POULTRY CONGRESS.

Forty countries will be represented at the world poultry congress in Canada this summer.

When in Doubt, Buy Church Bonds

Church bonds are unusually attractive at this time to the discriminating investor. Perhaps never before have physical church values been so sound and the margin of security so broad. The experience of countless investors over a long period of years emphasizes the high value and certainty of Church Bonds that pay an assured rate of interest for long or short term. Church Bonds, with the HEINEMANN mark, have never been known to fail.

THE first half of this year has been the biggest The Globe-Democrat has ever had in display advertising.

This newspaper broke all its own past records for a half year by carrying 5,867,308 lines of display advertising. This total eclipsed by 208,674 lines The Globe-Democrat's previous high mark for a corresponding period.

There is significance, too, in the fact that The Globe-Democrat was the only St. Louis newspaper which showed gains in total display advertising during these first six months of 1927.

All the other St. Louis newspapers are evening papers, one of them publishing also on Sunday, as does The Globe-Democrat.

The steady, consistent gains of The Globe-Democrat were climaxed by the biggest June business in the history of the paper—a total of 929,378 lines of display advertising—a gain of 38,558 lines over the previous peak June.

Yes—business is fine in The 49th State.

YOU AND YOUR CHILDREN

by Gladys Huntington

The Funnies

ARE you superior about the funnies—the comic pictures in the newspapers? Do you think they're a bore—or very suitable for morose—or really awfully ordinary? I used to. But I've gotten over it. When I'd see children virtually demand the comic supplement from the Sunday paper the minute it came into the house, and scramble for the evening edition and turn right to the comic strips, I used to think, "That's because they weren't started as they should be—that's because the grownup members of the family have such undeveloped tastes. I'm sure that no child of mine would be crazy over these insane slapstick inventions of line and color."

Well, that's where I made my great mistake. When the time came for me to put my theories into effect I did so. The comic supplement and the rotogravure section came, of course, with the rest of the paper. I or his father showed him the picture section which he loved, but we paid no attention to the colored funnies one way or the other—we didn't hide it nor did we flourish it around. It was there. Then one Sunday the blow fell. I was reading the paper and I heard delighted giggles and chuckles of laughter. I looked up and saw my little son flat on his stomach on the floor absolutely drinking in the funnies. He asked me to read them and I did. It was all over then.

Every Sunday after that and pretty soon every week day we went through the ceremony until he was old enough to read them himself. Of course, I did use discretion. Some I had to skip and some I had to change the wording of—the very worst of the wordings.

And if we think about it a little we won't be surprised that the boys and girls love the comics—it is a perfectly legitimate taste. Child psychologists have been telling us for many years that children are primitive—that as they develop from their birth they pass through in the few years up to adolescence all the stages that the race has passed through since prehistoric days. We know the caveman's idea of fun would not have been delicate, subtle. It would undoubtedly have been of the slapstick, buff-on-the-nose, sock-in-the-jaw, crack-on-the-bean variety. Like this, much of the time, is the children's. And brought into a civilized environment, they don't really have half the chance they need to express this sort of rough, free, crude fun. So they take a lot of it out, vicariously, in looking at the funnies.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—"My mother bids me bind my hair"—no, the modern miss could hardly apply to herself the words of this famous old ballad. What with our present day bobbed heads the field of operations would be too limited. But, supposing that she has a fashionable mother, she may easily change the refrain to my mother bids me bind my skirt—with a band of contrasting material.

The vogue of skirts that show a contrasting hem is one that began with the early spring openings, and now that summer is upon us the fashion is reaching a climax. Of this fashion the above sports model adds its own special testimony. For its skirt, both front and back, is bound with the same material as that which composes the bolero like jacket. This model is also eloquent of another fashion trick. It is that of combining wool and linen and wool or cotton in the same costume. Thus we see here a frock of hand hemstitched white linen topped by a white flannel jacket all embroidered in various pastel tints. The embroidered flannel is repeated on the frock, not only in the shape of bands at the hem, but also of a belt. It will be seen that the latter functions only at the front and back.

The final touch of perfection is achieved by streamers of black satin ribbon adjusted to the fence collar of the jacket.

College Boys Tell Girls' Ways That Peeve 'Em Most

In one of those student questionnaires that are becoming apparently a featured part of the college curriculum, young men were asked about girl features they objected to. In the list of "objectionables" were the crooked seamed stockings and the run down heel.

That seam in the back of a flesh pink, a mauve gray chiffon or sturdier weight stocking has a purpose, not only in fashioning the stocking, but also in giving a line to the leg itself. Of course, you know this as well as I if you have traveled a few paces behind a girl who stepped out doors without taking that last analytical peer in the full length mirror. It is so simple a thing—this slender seam that shapes the leg from one's back-knee joint—yet most telling in the picture presented. The only way it can be made to be the help it honestly is to nearer turned out neither extremities is to get it straight and fasten it so it stays that way. The rolled stocking requires a bit more ingenuity to keep it moored to the line of symmetry. But then, women have become pretty expert in rolling or gartering their stockings. Some kind of garter support attached to a waist band naturally is better able to adjust this line and keep it adjusted correctly. But if you refuse the corset idea in any of its now varied proportions, then the adjusting of the stocking line has to be done with a sharp eye for the slightest wavering, when it is being put on. It does seem a small thing to be given so much importance, but if the college youth are making observations, as statistics hint, then it is not too small to be treated with a certain amount of care. Aside from this angle, there is no question that the zig-zag line does distort the shape of the leg, making the plump one plumper and the unsightly one more obvious by the simple process of calling unnecessary attention to its unsightliness. Of crooked heels, we hardly need speak, since no woman need be told what they do to her. Heels aren't just heels. They're character indications. Not that we'd go so far as to say that straight heels mean a straightforward character, nor crooked ones a crooked character, but run-down heels do suggest shiftlessness, untidiness and a certain degree of inefficiency.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
MRS. B. V. E.: THE X-RAY TREATMENT for superfluous hair haven't proved satisfactory. Electrolysis is the method used for permanent removal, and care must be used in the selection of a specialist who does this work. In unskilled hands the face is liable to be scarred. If the hairs are light they may be made less noticeable by bleaching with peroxide of hydrogen, to which a few drops of ammonia have been added.

THE HAGUE, July 5.—The heiress to the Dutch throne, Princess Juliana, has ambitions for educational honors. She has entered as an ordinary student at the University of Leyden to study law and literature during the coming term. But she is scornful of royal privileges and insisting on university conditions as lived by the ordinary students. Therefore she will study inconspicuously under the name of Countess Van Buren. She intends to enter fully into the life of the university and is taking part in private theatricals with her classmates.
